

The 5th National Conference on Grazing Lands

Announcing the 5th National Conference on Grazing Lands (5NCGL) in Orlando, Florida, December 9th - 12th, 2012. This conference brings together land managers from all fifty states for education, technology advancements, and environmental sustainability. The majority of the presentations will be made by successful producers.

The 5NCGL will cultivate partnerships between agricultural, grazing, corporate, and urban communities, and concentrate on management methods that are successful in bridging agricultural needs with environmental and social benefits.

This is an opportunity to support this important national effort with financial sponsoring and/or participating in our trade show. Sponsorship activities will promote name recognition. The trade show has hosted up to 80 booths at the past four national conferences, and we centralize the conference activities around the trade show to provide maximum exposure. We look forward to you becoming a partner for 2012's 5NCGL!
